Hill Warns Danger Education Blackout

More Teachers Must Be Trained to Take Over the Work in Public Schools

Many communities of the Panhandle face an educational "blackout" next fall unless drastic steps are taken to meet the acute teacher shortage, President J. A. Hill of West Texas State College declared this week in announcing spring semester plans of his institution.

While West Texas State is offering short courses, pre-induction and pre-professional work, aviation mechanics, radio, and many other wartime classes, the college is at the same time mindful of the plight of schools in this area, Dr. Hill added. With the assistance of Panhandle principals and superintendents, he proposes that a survey be made of persons who might, with some quick preparation, go into the school rooms in the emergency. The college will offer "refresher" courses and beginning classes in the spring semester opening January 26. It will have other courses leading to all Texas teaching certificates.

Dr. Hill noted that practically all young male teachers would be in military services or industries by next fall. Hundreds of young women are leaving the school rooms for military auxiliary services or jobs in business and industry which pay more than school teaching.

"Unless something far-reaching is done quickly, this generation of youth is going to reach adulthood with the poorest preparation to carry its rapidly increasing responsibilities that has characterized any like body of citizens in a quarter of a century," Dr. Hill said.

He called for increased salaries for teachers, re-entry of former teachers, acceptance of married women as teachers, and emphasis upon the importance of the teacher in this national emergency.

Buffs Hold Clear Record in Circuit

Four Conference Games Are Won by Buffs—Texas Tech Will Play Friday-Saturday

The Buffalo basketball team has hit its stride and won four Border Conference games during the past week. The Hardin-Simmons team fell victim to the Buffs Friday and Saturday by the scores of 59 to 38; 68 to 40.

The Buffs traveled to Albuquerque Sunday where they met and disposed of the New Mexico Lobos Monday and Tuesday night, 60 to 47 and 57 to 46.

The Texas Tech Red Raiders will be here Friday and Saturday nights to meet the Buffs at Burton Gym. The two series of games between the Buffs and Tech last year were the hardest on the schedule, and drew the biggest crowds, both in Canyon and in Lubbock. Hundreds of fans were turned away in both towns because of the interest in these games.

Comparative scores indicate that these games will be hard pressed.

The Johnson brothers, Clark and Charles, are the outstanding scoring combination of the Buffalo squad. Clark is playing at center until Ray Ellefson becomes eligible at the end of this semester. He will then probably take forward position.

A feature of recent games has been the insertion of a freshman team averaging 6 feet 4½ inches in height. These giants have played Border Conference teams on even terms.

After the games with Tech, the Buffs will prepare for the major road trip of the season which will take them to Buffalo, New York City and Philadelphia. Both Ellefson and veteran Jack Maddox will be eligible to play on this trip.

Two Men Given Suspended Terms on Theft Charge

Two men were convicted in District Court Monday on the charge of theft in the value of more than $50. They were given suspended sentences of three years each. The men were O. J. Miller and Albert Huseman.

W. R. Frazee was appointed court reporter by Judge Henry S. Bishop at the opening of the term last week.

Cases against Woodrow Foster and J. C. Pruett were dismissed when the District Attorney showed that the men are now in the army.

Disabilities of minors were removed in the cases of Charles Edward Gerald, Wilbur Frederick Schuette and Helen Ann Schuette.

A divorce was granted in the case of Vara Cunningham vs. J. W. Cunningham.

Forbus To Lead Men to Lubbock for Examinations

Joed Forbus, co-captain of the Buffalo football squad, will head a group of Randall county boys to Lubbock next Wednesday to take their physical examinations under Selective Service. Forbus and Leslie Curb, another star on the Buffalo squad, decided Monday to volunteer since the end of the semester is near at hand. If accepted in the army, they will report at Fort Sill the following week.

The local board is called upon to furnish 19 men on this call, but several of this group have already volunteered into the service.

The next call is on February 18 for 32 more men. The local Selective Board is giving physical examinations to a large number of young men preparatory to filling this call.

"When you are working, building these ships, never forget that the Japs are dirty fighters. They strafed our men in the water who were struggling in the oil, but we can outfight and outgame the Japs any time. We will do our part as long as we have got anything to fight with," exclaimed the navy boy from Canyon.

Plans Are Being Made for Issuing 2nd Ration Book

A total of 8,000 copies of war ration book two, which will be used in point rationing of food, have been shipped to the Randall County War Price and Rationing Board, Lubbock district headquarters have notified W. J. Wooten, board chairman.

Plans for distribution of the books to every man, woman and child in Randall county will be announced soon, said the board chairman.

Blue stamps in war ration book two will be used for rationing of canned, bottled and frozen vegetables and fruits, juices, dried fruits and soups. Rationing of those foods will open soon after issuance of war ration book two, possibly as early as February. Red stamps will be used later for meats.

The Randall County board has been assured the date for point rationing of canned goods will not be set up until it has received all forms, books, and instructions and had opportunity to study them.

The new ration book contains four pages of blue stamps and four pages of red stamps. Each page contains 24 stamps lettered and numbered. The numerals 8, 5, 2, and 1 indicate the point value and the letters designate the ration period when stamps may be used.

Printers Ordered to Reduce Paper to 1941 Level

According to an order issued Friday from the War Production Board, printers may use only 80 per cent of the paper used in 1941.

This means that before the end of 1943 many printers will be out of paper stock and customers will be disappointed in getting their printing done.

As the result of this order, several Canyon firms have ordered the printing they will need for 1943 from Warwick's to be delivered at a later date. This assures them that they will get their printing done before there is a possibility of a paper shortage. Customers who order printing now will be assured of receiving their full amount later when they need it.

Farmers Pledged Food Campaign

State and District Men Talked Tuesday to Group Randall County Farmers

Randall county farmer committeemen met in the committee room at the County Agent's office Tuesday afternoon to hear W. B. Dryden of the Texas State AAA office discuss the 1943 farm program and the war program for food production.

Thirty three farm committeemen were present for the discussion. Mr. Dryden discussed the various phases of the war time farm program. He announced recent rulings that are of interest to producers in this area. One of the most important of these being the one governing the minimum planting of wheat. There is now no requirement that 90% of the wheat acreage be planted in order to make full compliance. It was also pointed out that in Randall county there is no required acreage of any crop. There being only the maximum acreage for wheat in order to be in compliance so far as acreage of crops is concerned.

Every farmer is urged to increase acreage of all feed crops, especially grain sorghum. All acreage, except wheat, being on a strictly voluntary basis, Randall county farmers are requested to increase the acreage of grain sorghum at least 10% in total over the normal acreage.

Goals for food production other than crops as announced Tuesday are as follows: (in total for the county) Cattle for beef the same as produced in 1942. Cows and heifers for milk 122% of 1942. Sheep and lambs the same as produced in 1942. Hens and pullets kept for egg production 109% of 1942. Pigs to be farrowed in spring 123% of 1942. Pigs to be farrowed in fall of 1943 115% of 1042. Chickens raised 119% of 1942. and turkeys raised to be 115% of 1942. In addition to the percentage increase in the pig crop, farmers are asked to feed hogs to an average weight 10 pounds heavier than in 1942.

After hearing Mr. Dryden discuss the food production program the committeemen listened to the Farm Mobilization program on the radio in which the President's message to the farmers of the nation was read.

A visitor at the committee meeting Tuesday was Ward Taylor, who is with the compliance division of the state office. Mr. Taylor announced that farmers in Randall county will be requested to measure their own acreage in determining compliance in 1943. This procedure is due to the shortages of tires and manpower. Mr. Taylor assisted the county office force in setting up proceedure for making compliance maps and for spot checking measurements on individual farms to determine the percentage of accuracy.

The Randall County War Board consides the goals for food production in Randall County to be very reasonable and is of the opinion that all will be exceeded except the one for milk production. Randall county farmers exceeded all 1942 goals set by the State War Board except the one for milk. Shortage of skilled labor is the principal reason for failure to produce the requested amount of milk. The skilled labor shortage promises to be even more acute in 1943.

It was announced at the meeting Tuesday that the general farm classification sign up will not be started before February 1 on account of the necessary forms not being available before that time.

Many Property Owners Render 1943 Property

A large number of Randall county property owners have called at the office of Tax Assessor M. E. Cantrell to render their property for taxes.

Mr. Cantrell states that it is necessary that property be rendered by the owner in order to claim homestead exemptions.

J. H. Lisle is assessing taxes for 1943, but any of the office force will take renditions. It is necessary to conserve tires and gasoline in the assessment of taxes, and Mr. Cantrell asks that all property owners call at his office when in Canyon instead of waiting for Mr. Lisle to call at their homes.

ILLUSIONS OF THE WAR

Various public officials have been telling us that America has not taken into consideration the seriousness of the war.

We have been told that we are taking it for granted that everything is going fine and dandy, and that the war will be over one of these mornings before we realize it.

Washington charges that the people of the nation are not taking their job seriously, and folks who have visited Washington recently confirm that everyone in the nation, except Washington, knows that a terrible war is going on. Perhaps both charges are true to a certain degree.

The people are amazed at the reports of the huge amount of liquor being consumed in Washington, and the lavish entertainment which goes on. Harry Hopkins warned the nation last month that we must conserve food, yet threw an extravagant dinner in honor of his new wife. With only 40 guests present, enough food was wasted to feed a hundred families.

On the other hand, Donald Nelson has been begging war plants to continue work and claims that production is not what it should be. In the face of his appeals, thousands of men failed to show up at their jobs after Christmas, taking three days off. Strikes have greatly increased during the past month.

Why is all of this, we are asked?

Admiral Halsey, hard hiting naval chief, says that the war will be over in 1943.

The President told Congress that the war would be over before the end of two years.

Admiral Stark tells a different story, but the people prefer to believe the brighter predictions. According to Stark, the submarine menace is greater than ever. The Germans have concentrated their attack at Vital points in the supply routes, and are sinking ships at a rapid pace.

In Canyon there are many people who think that with Russia pushing the Germans back; the United Nations getting the better of the Axis in Africa; with General MacArthur's success in the Pacific; with the rumors of sabotage and rebellion in the conquered nations of Europe—that all this adds up to an early victory.

These reports are confusing. So-called experts should not fool the people into believing that the war is practically over. As a matter of fact, unless the United Nations have great resources to push the Germans back into their homeland and inflict terrible punishment at home, there is little indication of Germany crumbling from within.

This is no time to let up in our war efforts—either in war plant production or buying War Bonds to finance the war.

Congress is trying to devise a method of collecting income taxes. The Victory Tax is one of the plans, but another one is proposed as Pay-As-You-Go. The stark reality is that Uncle Sam will lose millions of dollars of income tax from 1942 simply because no device was in operation during the past year. Canyon citizens saw scores of workmen last year who drew fabulous wages while working on war construction in Amarillo. Most of these workmen have moved by this time, and chances are that very few of them saved enough from these high wages to meet their high income tax. Uncle Sam will hardly be able to corral all of these workmen, now scattered to the lengths and breadths of the nation, for the purpose of collecting taxes. If the Victory Tax had been in operation, at least 5% of these wages would have been set aside to pay their income taxes.

President Roosevelt is the greatest man in America when it comes to handling men. He faced an almost hostile Congress in making his first speech, yet he appealed to the patriotism of the new Congress and presented only war measures. It has been rumored that he would present more of his New Deal policies, but he wisely omitted any reference, except that Americans have the right to expect Social Security. Congress applauded the President during his speech, and many words of commendation were heard from both Democrats and Republicans. However, with the small Democratic majority in both houses, the President cannot expect to continue dictating to Congress as he has in the past, and will be forced to confer with Congressional leaders before presenting the measures which he wishes to pass.

A Texas grand jury cannot indict a negro for any sort of crime unless a negro is on the grand jury. The United States Supreme Court has issued such an opinion, and there is nothing the people of Texas can do about it. What about Randall county, for instance? There are less than twenty negro families living in the north part of the county. None are taxpayers, and probably none have paid a poll tax. The law forbids a man from serving on the grand jury unless he has paid a poll tax. Does this mean that any negro can commit any sort of crime in Randall county and be allowed to go free so far as justice is concerned? The Court of Criminal Appeals have had to dismiss several cases because of this ruling of the Supreme Court.

A sample of what is facing the United Nations is seen by conditions in North Africa. American troops are having to feed and cloth the natives before they can achieve military success. This adds greatly to the problem of shipping, as Europe is a long way from the United States and Hitler has massed a pack of U-boats off Africa to see that our ships do not get through. Food and clothing are almost as important in this campaign as men and ammunition. And to further slow up progress, a dispute has arisen as to who shall have charge in this territory, civil or military authorities.

The weather has more to do with war than most people realize. The hard winter favors the Russians against the Germans; the mud and rain of North Africa is stalling the United Nations while the Axis move in reinforcements by seas; the long nights of winter favor the submarine attacks on the convoys from America; bad weather grounds bombers and observation planes. No wonder thousands of young men in America are being trained as weather observers.

The Texas Legislature started its session Tuesday. There will be no new taxes and appropriations will be the lowest in years. Governor Stevenson will make a very short talk to the legislators, and will advise a short session. However, the repeal of the gasoline tax refund to farmers, revision of election laws, legislative re-districting, and several other controversial subjects will keep the legislators busy for the full 120 day session.

Colleges are wondering about athletics for the coming year. So far no one is able to look very far into the future and predict. The President has stated that athletics should continue; the army and navy have set up athletic departments for the benefit of men in service. There may not be a large number of boys in the colleges by next fall, but those who do attend should be given the chance to participate in an athletic plan.

Pay your poll tax before the end of January. Many may take it for granted that this payment is unnecessary since there may be no important election during the year. However, aside from the question of voting privileges, every voter should keep in mind the fact that the school fund stands a loss of $1.00 every time a citizen refuses to pay his poll tax. Let's be good citizens and pay all of our taxes.

If you own a "C" card, better not abuse the privilege of additional gasoline. OPA officials are checking cards with "C" stickers to see to it that the drivers are not violating the spirit of the law. Too many folks believe that privilege gives them the right to abuse.

Don't become disgusted if your mail is a little late these days. It took 12½ years for a letter from Houston to be delivered in Dallas.

Teachers for Plains Sought

Placement Committee to Assist in Survey of Prospective Instructors

With many Panhandle schools facing an educational black-out in coming months because of the acute teacher shortage, West Texas State College has mapped out a program to afford as much relief as possible.

The Teacher Placement Committee, headed by Mrs. T. V. Reeves, will make a survey of possible teacher replacements. In this the committee will have the assistance of school authorities on the plains. Names of former teachers who might re-enter school work during the emergency will be sought. College department heads will go through files of graduates to find the names of former stduents qualified to teach.

Service clubs and other organizations will be informed of the seriousness of the school situation. Information on certification in the emergency will be distributed.

West Texas State also will offer courses designed to prepare former teachers to resume schoolroom procedures with confidence. Many students will go into teaching before graduation.

Periodically, reports will be made to principals and superintendents by the college, which is called upon for scores of teachers which are not available. Surveys made by the placement committee indicated that many schools will be forced to close this year and many subjects will be dropped for lack of teachers. Unless remedial steps are taken during the coming summer, the situation will be much worse next fall. West Texas State will offer a 15-week summer session as one step in the solution of the problem.

Members of the Placement Committee include Dr. Harris M. Cook, Prof. C. A. Murray, Dr. H. S. Condron, and Miss Anna I. Hibbets. Dr. J. A. Hill is an ex-officio member.

Military Voice Is Being Trained by WT Students

Any just-hatched military officer with a voice which cracks or squeaks in an embarrassing manner and any shop foreman who has tried to make himself heard above the roar of machinery can appreciate the value of speech classes which will be taught at West Texas State College during the spring semester opening January 26.

And, reasons Dr. Seth Fessenden, head of the Speech Department, prospective athletic coaches who must address large squads in the open air should like these courses. Such things as voice development, tone control, voice projection, delivery, and speech situations such as introductions, making or accepting awards, etc. will be studied.

From former students and faculty members now in officer training come urgent recommendations that future soldiers and sailors be taught how to use the voice in giving commands, addressing large groups, and participating in ceremonies. From masses of materials collected on this subject, Dr. Fessenden has built the new course. A similar class will deal with use of the voice in industry and business, and related situations. Much individual attention will be given.

An advanced class in speech correction will assist Dr. Fessenden in a Speech Clinic for all students and pupils of the College High School and grades. A survey will be made of speech characteristics of local children.

These courses are widely emphasized as parts of a campus-wide emphasis upon leadership training.

Tires Depend On Necessity When Given Certificate

Reminder that the Randall County War Price and Rationing Board still is restricted by a quota in spite of the fact that all motorists are eligible for tires was offered today by W. J. Wooten, board chairman.

"Even under the new mileage rationing regulations, the board still is operating under quota restrictions in issuing certificates for all tires, tubes and recapping services," said the board chairman. "Under the mileage rationing program, all motorists are eligible for tires, but most essential mileage must be taken care of first under the rationing regulations," he stated.

The Randall county quota was set in Washington.

Announcement has been received here from Lubbock district headquarters of the Office of Price Administration that several boards have reported the belief seems to exist among tire applicants that approval of their applications is assured under the new regulations. District officials joined the Randall county board in asking that the public realize the board is limited by a quota.

Some motorists are under the impression they must obtain recapping service or replacements, if recommended by a tire inspector, before signature of the inspector will be placed on their inspection report. The board called attention to a line on the tire inspection record specifying that inspectors will not sign until the "required service" has been completed, "except for recapping service or replacement."

Miss Wilma Jean Dickerson of Amarillo spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dickerson. Spending the week end with her was Miss Dorothy Hoefflgher of Stratford.

NOT ALL LUNATICS

Hitler was making a tour of a German lunatic asylum. All the inmates lined up and, as soon as the Dictator appeared, stood smartly to attention and gave the Nazi salute. All, that is, except one man at the end of the line.

"Hi!" screamed Adolf. "Why aren't you saluting?"

"Don't be silly?" said the man, "I'm one of the guards here, not one of the inmates."

OPTICIAN

The sailor was recounting his experience to a dear old lady when she interrupted him. "But what rank did you hold?" she asked.

"Ship's optician, lady," was the reply.

"Ship's optician! I never knew there was such a rank in the navy. What did your duty consist of?" asked the old lady.

"Scraping the eyes out of potatoes," replied the sailor.

At Camp Upton, N. Y., a chaplain saw a new soldier, in civilian clothes, about to leave camp. He had been discharged, he said, and was going home. Then he unfolded the story:

After 12 days in the Army, the soldier told his sargeant he didn't like it . . . thought he'd go home. The sergeant, busy at something, looked up. "Scram, buddy," he said briefly. "And," the soldier told the chaplain, "where I come from 'scram' means 'go home.'"

"Waiter, do you call this meat pie?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, there's hardly enough meat in it to flavor it."

"It isn't supposed to flavor it, sir; it's just supposed to christen it."

Care for my Car for my Country?

Sonny, what you do to your car is your business, although chances are you won't be able to get another while the war is on.

But what your daddy does to his car is the nation's business!

The American way of life is geared to the motor car. It takes the warworker to his job, carries munitions, provides essential civilian transportation. That is why cars and tires must be used wisely, must be preserved to play their part in holding war production at maximum.

Your Phillips 66 Service Man is pledged to help you Care For Your Car . . . For Your Country. And though you drive less miles, don't make the mistake of assuming your car needs less care.

Reduced driving may increase crankcase dilution of oil by unburned fuel . . . may increase sludge because of added condensation of moisture. Both greatly reduce the motor protection and lubricating efficiency of your oil.

Your battery, with charging time cut down, will need more frequent inspection. And spark plugs must be scientifically adjusted to prevent waste of fuel.

Remember, every Phillips 66 Service Man is specially trained to make your car and your tires last longer and go farther. Beginning the longest trip of the current basketball season, the Canyon Eagles will leave today for Stratford, scene of an invitation basketball tournament. Raging all day Friday, the games will be finished on Saturday.

"This tournament will be excellent preparation for the struggle at the district tournament and will show what chance the Eagles have of taking district," said Coach Sanders.

STAY IN SCHOOL

Why keep going to school? Why not go to work in a war plant, thereby helping our country and making good money too? Is it more important to go to school?

These extremely important questions were answered Friday by Reverend Joe Findley in his short address to the student body.

"In this war," he said, "it is the high school student's duty to learn all he can and be prepared for a post-war world.

"It is true that our country needs workers for war industries; but if high school students leave their studies and merely train themselves to do one thing, they will have no basic education enabling them to meet the problems of a world at peace."

After the war when millions of soldiers will be coming home to find jobs, many of these people non high school graduates now being employed in war plants, will be "laid off."

In this situation, what can these ex-employees do but become manual laborers or dependent on the government to take care of them?

Of course, no one wants to be left in this predicament. Therefore, the best way that students of high school age can help their country is to learn all they can to become the leaders and good citizens of a nation at peace.

"Here, waiter, give me my hat."
"What sort of a hat is it, sir?"
"It's a brand-new silk."
Sorry, sir, the new hats have all been taken away a half-hour ago."

Canyon High School Boys Construct Model Airplanes for Navy Bureau

Extending their grudge against the warring Axis nations, several Canyon High School manual training and mechanical drawing boys are continually constructing small scale model airplanes for use as a major service in the aeronautical school of the United States Navy. Their structure is viewed from every angle by sailors in this division of their branch.

Almost every type of plane has been once modeled by the boys since such types as fighters, patrol and scout, torpedo bombers, pursuits, transports, and several others have been sent for immediate use in all parts of the United States.

Five planes have placed Joe Ziegler in the lead as a master modeler of Canyon High School.

In appreciation of the efforts of these boys who for the past year and a half have been contributing to this drive, the Bureau of Aeronautics in Washington, D. C. has awarded an aircraftsmanship certificate to each constructor. Each of the following students and ex-students are entitled to an award: Blake Zachry, Benny Railing, Charles Owens, Dana Persons.

Party Entertains Junior Students

Members of the Junior Class, skating around the grade school gymnasium and chewing their gum, furnished their own entertainment at their second party for this semester yesterday evening.

Besides the gum, refreshments of ice cream sandwiches and candy were served to 27 juniors.

Pigs—and More Pigs Banks Help Victory

Pigs, pigs! Canyon Grade School is simply swarming with pigs!

Now the teachers are convinced that pigs are bringing pennies. Well, at least they are holding them. Many pupils are giving their pennies to the Junior Red Cross Service Fund and the piggy banks in the individual grades are quickly being filled. Each morning as a child walks to the desk and deposits his pennies into the bank, all the other children insist on shaking the pig to see how full it is getting.

"When the moment comes that each pig is full, the money will be turned over to the Canyon Red Cross Chapter to be used for soldier kits," commented Miss Elva Fronabarger, grade school principal.

Browning Directs Victorious Team

First period physical education class basketeers finished games last week as Mary Alice Browning's team defeated class rivals.

Captains of the other teams were Cheri Kilchreste, Joan Morton, and Earleen Davis.

"The girls played exceptional games for their first team-work," declared Miss Helen Whiteside, physical education teacher.

Members of the winning team were Betty Ann Miller, forward; Geraldine Small, guard; Louise Tucek, forward; Fawn Rogers, forward; Wilma Schuette, guard; Billie Beth Tinkle, guard; Mary Browning, forward; Muriel Cope, guard; Johnny Ford, forward; and Sue Ann Moreman, guard.

Seniors Introduce New Programs

Beginning a new series of assembly programs, the Senior Class, under the direction of Lila Mae Lill, gave a Dr. I. Q. quiz program.

After the Pledge of Allegiance, Reverend Joe Findley of the First Christian Church spoke on War Education.

Posing as Dr. I. Q., Farmer Lill appeared with her hired hands, Peggy Harding, Barbara Michael, Martha Hammond, Josephine Mulanax Stephens, Arthur Duncan, and Elwyn Morton, each of whom selected members of the student body to answer various types of questions. Those who gave the correct answers received a reward.

The Army medico was making his cheerful rounds of sick bay on a transport that had been working for a few days through long, oily swells. One case was nothing more (or less, depending upon the point of view) than an old-fashioned attack of seasickness.

"Well, Private Jenks," boomed the doctor heartily, "it looks like you're not going to die after all.

Private Jenks opened a horrified eye.

"Not going to die!" he wailed. "Gosh, doctor, I thought I was. That was the only thing that kept me alive."

Sinful thoughts are even more dangerous than sin itself.—Hebrew Proverb.

Executives Attend Conference

(Note: This is a letter from Denver Farley, member of last year's graduating class. Letters from any ex-student of Canyon Public Schools are welcome. Send to The Eagle's Tale, Canyon High School, Canyon, Texas.)

San Diego, California.

Dear ——,

Here I am again in perfect health with the shortest haircuts I have ever experienced, and I'm still going to school. I'm supposed to be studying for a shop test which I will take at 11 o'clock, but they are usually simple, and we just have to make 50 to pass. The teacher gives us problems that I had in the seventh grade, mixed in with ones that I didn't know existed. I thought I had finished with algebra and geometry and Pythagoras, but it seems I have just begun, and night school makes them worse.

I wish that you could see the beaches, zoos, ocean, and every kind of scenery out here that West Texas lacks. About all I do when I'm on leave is inhale all these beautiful things. Of course the beach is interesting—with its usual "inhabitants."

The girls in Los Angeles certainly give sailors "the eye" and the people are very nice there. A queer thing about the city is that it is extraordinarily clean and beautiful except the streets. It's the dirtiest place I ever visited; in fact, it seems that the slums are on main street.

Reckless driving in Texas doesn't even compare with the driving here. I saw three wrecks on my way back to San Diego, and that was within an hour.

In several ways I had a very nice Christmas, but being away from home made me "blue." We had plenty to eat, though, including turkey, ham, gravy, dressing, cranberry sauce, jelly, mashed potatoes, asparagus, candied sweet potatoes, fruitcake, pie, ice cream, coffee, rolls and butter, pickles and olives, besides candy and nuts. A package of cigarettes was thrown in for good measure. I suppose civilians are not receiving all the things we do, such as coffee and meat, and soon vegetables. Judging by the way we sailors are fed, there won't be much for civilians from now on.

My group has a few more weeks of school, and then to the "little salty pond." The officials said at the first of the period of training, we would get a leave home, but I will believe it when I'm on a train heading east.

As ever,

Field Trip Varies Usual Meetings

Miss Sarah Thompson and her third grade took a field trip to the Coleman Game Farm Friday, January 1, instead of conducting the usual Bird Club meeting. On the way back to school, the children stopped to visit the West Texas third grade taught by Mrs. Earlene Moreman.

All kinds of mounted birds were shown to the visitors. Some of them were the mountain bluebird, quail, Arkansas kingbird, flicker, least flycatcher, and pheasants.

"The children were able to identify many of the birds because they had read about them in Bird Club meetings before," said Miss Thompson. "They decided the mountain bluebird was one of the prettiest they saw."

Recital Climaxes Music Recital

One of Canyon High School's musicians, Martha Jean Dowd, will be presented in a senior recital this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Houston Bright.

Martha Jean will play "Gigne" by Bach, "Sonata XI" by Mozart, "From a Wandering Iceberg" by MacDowell, "Shadow Dance" by MacDowell, "Old Vienna" by Godowsky and "Polichinelle" by Rachmaninoff. Between her second and third pieces, the girls' double trio consisting of Frances Gooch, Wanda Moreland, Mary Ann Bellah, Sue Ann Moreman, Frances Alice Harp, and Billie Jo Wallen and accompanied by Ellen Sanders will sing "Out of the Dusk" by Lee and "Glowworm" by Linche.

Assistant editor of The Eagle's Tale, member of the band, chorus, Quill and Scroll, National Honor Society, and secretary of the Senior Class are only a few of her achievements.

To be presented in the high school auditorium, Martha Jean's recital is open to all who are interested in musical art.

Periodical Enters National Contest

In an effort to advance the standards of The Eagle's Tale, the publication has entered the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's contest. This will furnish nation-wide competition so vital to the progress of any successful paper.

Two copies of each edition since Easter of 1942 were sent to the national offices at Columbia University.

Publications are rated for first, second, third, and fourth positions. First, second, and third places will receive miniature plaques of gold, silver, and bronze, respectively, while fourth place does not carry an award.

FFA Group Holds Called Meeting

Meeting for the third time this school year with Milton Morris, West Texas State agriculture instructor, the Canyon High School chapter of the Future Farmers of America discussed various forms of business Friday under the direction of Lewis Hales, president.

Because of the irregular periods for meetings which have been called previously, the F. F. A. boys set a definite date, the first and third Thursdays of each month, for future meetings.

Bids are now open for the disposal of several hog feeders which are the property of the chapter.

To sell the boar, belonging to the chapter, a committee composed of Lewis, Billy Thurman, and Charles SoRelle was appointed by Milton Morris, sponsor.

Greenhands approached their fate of becoming full-fledged F. F. A. members when they were initiated into the club by the regular formal procedure.

From a noted book on wit and laughter, I procured the statement that a thing, to be funny, must be plausible.

Woe is you in that case for I'm not guaranteeing anything. For example, I found this bit and can't decide whether I'm crazy or it is. It reminded me of modernistic art:

"She went into the garden to cut a cabbage leaf to make an apple pie, and at the same time a great she-bear, coming up the street, pops its head into the shop. 'What no soap?' So he died. She imprudently married the barber, and there were present the Picaninnes, the Jobbilliew, and the Aayruly himself with the little round button on the top, and they all fell to playing catch-as-catch-can till the gunpowder ran out the heels of their shoes."

As a special request from the nursery kids to get into the war picture, I rented their copyright and came out with these:

Little Bo Peep has lost her sheep,
Oh, what would Uncle Sam say?
If it dropped meat production,
It would mean sure destruction—
And she'd be in a factory to stay
(For the duration!)

The Queen of Hearts had made
some tarts,
To appease the King's appetite;
But the syrup she used
He quickly refused—
My goodness, doesn't he know there is a war on!

Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
How does your garden grow?
With plastic bells
And heavy-pack shells
Into Jap rat-holes to blow.

Gas rationing caused this:
Mary had a little lamp,
She filled it with benzine;
She went to light her little lamp,
And hasn't since benzine.

Guess Who

Her hair is dark,
Her cheek is fair;
She's under Miss Clark;
She's a senior, I'd swear

She lives in a house with a school-teaching mother;
One eye is green, and gray is the other;
She plays the piano like a whiz,
Now try and guess just who she is.

Answer to last week's Guess Who is Clifford Abbott.

Cherokee is Texas' leading tomato growing and shipping county.

Delegates Study Victory Corps

Brigadier-General Peaks Conference with Address

Returning from the tenth annual mid-winter conference of Texas School Executives in Austin, Superintendent J. B. Speer and Dr. Harris M. Cook, in behalf of Canyon Public Schools, studied war problems concerning "Education for the War Effort," January 7, 8, and 9.

War Program Discussed

Several of the problems included in the program were:

1. How to educate youth to serve the armed forces.
2. How to keep the best teachers from leaving their chosen profession to enter war work.
3. How to maintain good schools without too much additional cost.
4. What can schools do in the teaching of nutrition throughout the schools and communities?
5. What can the schools do in the development of the High School Victory Corps?

In regard to the last problem, representatives of the Victory Corps will present approximately twenty programs in various sections of the state to help initiate the program.

Henry Highlights Conference

Highlighting the three-day conference was an "Overview of the Educational Needs of Youth for Service in the Armed Forces," by Brigadier-General S. O. Henry, commandant of the Armored Force School, Fort Knox, Kentucky.

"A good, sound, solid citizen makes a good, sound, solid soldier," said Brigadier-General Henry.

"Out of the approximate total of twelve hundred superintendents and trustees in Texas, about eight hundred executives attended the meeting which was highly informative. Everyone seemed to be more interested and the programs, as a whole, were better than usual," Mr. Speer reported.

Common interest in war programs seems to have made the gathering over-successful.

Students Will Back Project

Pledge Support of Any Training Program Placed on Campus

Students of West Texas State are ready to cooperate in any governmental training program which may involve some of the facilities of this institution. They voted unanimous support of Dr. Hill in votes taken at dormitories last week.

No definite projects are in sight, but Dr. Hill wished to have the students' viewpoint before making any commitments to governmental representatives. Some shifting of boarding accommodations might be necessary should the government establish a training base here.

Dr. Hill emphasized, however, that his questions were exploratory and that they implied no certainty of changes. A falling enrollment would leave some facilities available to the government. However, there are indications that the spring enrollment drop will not be greatly above normal.

Dr. Hill attended a state meeting of school heads in Austin late last week. Spokesmen for business and industry stressed that intensive training of young people for business and war plants must be greatly enlarged. Pre-induction training may extend to pupils as young as 14 years in the public schools.

Colleges are facing lean years as the Legislature wrestles with problems of declining revenues. College heads will meet again next week to plan wartime programs and appearances before legislative committees.

Emphasized throughout the Austin meeting was the importance of nutrition and physical conditioning. Speakers said many subjects could be dropped from the curriculum during the emergency to make way for wartime training.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves, who has had charge of the College's distribution of war films in the Panhandle, attended a meeting in Austin in which the future of this project was discussed. Because of the evident success of the Texas program, a similar project is likely to be launched in every state. Mrs. Reeves said spokesmen for war industries advocated "scrapping" of many high school subjects and substituting of training for war work. The importance of high school Victory Corps work was repeatedly stressed.

Hundreds of Texas school administrators were present for their tenth annual mid-winter meeting.

Dahlias Buried for Winter, To Be Replanted in Spring on Campus Plot

The dahlia bulbs are being buried, but not because they are dead. On the contrary, the burying is for the safe-keeping of the bulbs through the winter.

Tentative plans for building a cellar in which to store the bulbs had been discussed, but it failed to materialize. As a result, A. L. Tarleton, gardener of the Southwestern Dahlia Society's trial grounds, is putting from six to twelve inches of dirt on top of the ground where the bulbs are, making them about one or one and one-half feet below the surface of the ground. Unless very severe weather comes and the bulbs freeze, they will be relatively safe, and can be dug up and replanted next spring, Mr. Tarlton said.

He estimated the grounds to have had about 250 dahlia plants last year. He expects to at least double the number this year.

"Of course," he said, "one never can tell what the next year will bring." But he hopes to enlarge the garden considerably.

There are many different kinds of dahlias, varying in colors from one side of the rainbow to the other and sizes from one to fourteen inches in diameter. Each dahlia in the garden has been tagged so that the particular variety it is will be known when time for replanting comes. Several out of state visitors as well as a number of locally interested people have promised to give more bulbs for the garden, thus adding even more variety to the grounds.

This Isn't Child's Play

Playing in a sand table is serious business for the Army. Lieut. Thomas Breeze, former landscape artist, uses this realistic sand table "country" to instruct recruits at Camp Callan, Calif., in war tactics. They learn to block roads, conceal themselves from aerial view, and travel without leaving any trace on the highway.

McCARTER WRITES OUTSTANDING PAPER

Barry McCarter, former student of West Texas State, now attending the University of Texas, received first place in a judgment on papers written in the Engineering Department. Barry was one of six students who were chosen to write papers to be read before the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The paper was read in Austin in December.

"I hear that Miss Blank's father has lost all his money. The new conditions must be very hard on her."

"Yes, she is so changed that her old friends no longer recognize her."

PLOW OR SWORD?

An Irish soldier on duty in Egypt received a letter from his wife saying there wasn't an able-bodied man left, and she was going to dig the garden herself.

Pat wrote at the beginning of his next letter: "Bridget, please don't dig the garden; that's where the guns are."

The letter was duly censored, and in a short time a lorry-load of men in khaki arrived at Pat's house and dug up the garden from end to end.

Bridget wrote to Pat in desperation, saying that she didn't know what to do, as the soldiers had got the garden dug up, every bit of it.

Pat's reply was short and to the point: "Put in the spuds."

THE BUTTER END

They're telling in Germany, in whispers, of a new method of carrying out the death sentence. They blindfold the condemned man, make him stretch out his arms, and in one hand they put a pound of butter, and in the other a pound of bacon. Then they remove the bandage from his eyes—when he falls dead from shock.

The toil undertaken for a parent should not be remembered.—Sophocles.

Two Students Are Radio Debate

Oliver Dobbs and Mrs. Christine Gibson To Enter Economic Outlines

The two students to represent West Texas State College in the Radio debate contest, the topic of which is "Should the American Youth Support the Reestablishment After the War of Free Enterprise As Our Dominant Economic System" have been selected, according to Dr. Seth Fessenden, head of the Department of Speech.

Oliver Dobbs, sophomore from Houston, and Mrs. Christine Gibson, senior from Canyon were selected to represent the College.

There are 247 American colleges participating. Of the six colleges in Texas with representatives, this college is the only one in West Texas.

Contestants are to submit by January 25 an abstract of their argument on the question. The 32 students with the best abstracts will be selected and will participate on a network broadcast sometime in April.

The four best will receive a $1000 prize and a free trip to New York.

ACT FAST WHEN A COLD THREATENS

At the very first sniffle, sneeze, or any sign of a cold just try a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. If used in time, Va-tro-nol's quick action helps prevent many colds from developing.... And remember this, when a head cold makes you miserable, or transient congestion "fills up" nose and spoils sleep—3-purpose Va-tro-nol does three important things. It (1) shrinks swollen membranes, (2) relieves irritation, (3) helps clear clogged nasal passages. Enjoy the relief it brings. Follow directions in folder.

Golden Gloves Carried on As a War Measure

President Roosevelt has approved continuance of athletic contests, so the Amarillo Globe-News is going to stage its sixth annual Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament. Dates will be January 27, 28, and 29, with all bouts in the Auditorium USO which has a seating capacity of nearly 3,500.

The Amarillo tournament will be the only one in the Panhandle and winners in all divisions will be eligible to compete in the state tournament at Fort Worth with all expenses paid. Eligible to enter the tournament will be any amateur boxer who has passed his 16th birthday. However, boxers under 21 years old will have to file releases signed by parents or guardian.

The tournament will be open to members of the armed forces now training in this area. Invitations have been extended to Childress Army Air Forces Bombardier School, the Pampa Advanced Twin Engine Bomber Training School, the Dalhart Glider School, and the Amarillo Air Forces Technical School to send teams.

Individuals, clubs or schools may send entries. Shamrock has already entered a full team. Follett has registered four entries, and other towns have applied for blanks.

Out-of-town entries will be furnished hotel accommodations in Amarillo's best hotels and meals as long as they remain undefeated in the tournament. Winners in each event will be given a trophy.

For further information, write the Golden Gloves Director, Amarillo Globe-News, Amarillo, Texas.
